Santa Fe Mountains Landscape Resiliency Project

I live in Santa Fe, New Mexico and am deeply concerned about the proposed thinning of 21,000 acres and prescribed burning of 43,000 acres in nearby forests. I understand the necessity of such actions; I request that a site-specific, comprehensive environmental impact statement be done for a project of this scope and size. This will evaluate the impact on humans, wildlife, and the vibrancy of the forest itself.

As a citizen with health issues that cause me to react unfavorably to extensive prescribed burns, I hope these burns can be kept to the absolutely essential minimum and the environmental impact statement can determine that minimum.
