Santa Fe Mountains Landscape Resiliency Project

To Whom it May Concern,

I believe an EA is not sufficient for the proposed project of this size and scale. My deep concern is that there will be adverse and most likely irreparable impact on threatened and sensitive species, old growth forests, roadless areas and streams and other riparian areas. Because this project will no doubt have severe and significant impacts to these and other natural resources, I fully believe you must do a more thorough and site-specific analysis of ALL environmental impacts and that a more comprehensive and detailed Environmental Impact Statement is required.

I'm respectfully implore you to analyze the project, and take a more measured approach and use safer less impactful alternatives. Santa Fe Conservation Alternative submitted such proposal through Earth Guardians and there are others that have raised the alarm and point out the drawbacks of the current proposal. Please take these issues into careful consideration and fully utilize the best scientific data before launching into the proposal as it stands today.

Sincerely,

Joy Nagle
